

DEPUTY PRINCIPAL – NOAM SCHOOL, ZURICH, SWITZERLAND

We are a highly regarded, innovative, modern-orthodox Jewish day school in the heart of Zurich. Established over 30 years ago, we provide full-time Jewish and secular education to 180 children in our primary (grades 1 – 6) and junior high (middle) (grades 7 – 9) schools, with 36 Jewish and non-Jewish teachers. Secular subjects are taught under the state curriculum, to which we add a detailed Jewish educational programme. As one of the leading Jewish schools in Europe operating the TaL Am project (Ivrit b'Ivrit), almost all our pupils speak fluent Hebrew by the end of grade 6. For more about Noam, see www.noam.ch

We are looking for a dynamic Deputy Principal to start in August 2016, to take us to the next level in our quest for educational excellence.

The successful candidate will:

- Lead the Jewish curriculum both primary and junior high schools in educational, personnel and administration matters, guiding and influencing the school according to modern-orthodox principles and Zionist values.
- Actively support the Principle in further developing the school syllabus and the school introducing the Jewish life aspect in these matters.
- Act as the primary contact for pupils, teachers and parents concerning the Jewish studies.
- Work closely on strategy implementation with a highly committed and engaged school Management and oversee and improve the Tal Am and Neta programme use.
- Contribute practically to the education of pupils on a regular basis

We are looking for someone who is:

- Observant (modern-orthodox) and shares our belief that Jewish education is essential to our community.
- Convinced that high ethical standards as well as social and moral responsibility are an essential part of Jewish development and life.
- Ready to take initiative, with good communication skills; also solutions driven, who is a team player and can motivate people during change management
- Has excellent Hebrew language skills and speaks a good level of German or English.
- Experienced in Jewish education, with teaching qualifications and experience or training in senior management of a school or other senior educational experience.
- Prepared to work closely with the school team to realise our high religious and secular pedagogic standards and expectations.

We offer

- An attractive and stimulating position with significant freedom in a dynamic Jewish community.
- A great team of experienced and motivated teachers and a fully engaged and supportive Board.
- A competitive Swiss compensation package to live in a city consistently rated as one of the world's best for quality of life.
